BLACK HISTORY MONTH

A resource for educators to start discussions about life online for Black people.

Questions to celebrate

- How can the internet help people gain a better understanding of Black people's experiences?
- How can the internet help Black people celebrate their identity?
- How can people use the internet to take a stand against racism?

Questions to spread awareness

- How often do young people your age see online hate towards Black people?
- Does the internet make it easier or harder for individuals to be hateful towards Black people?
- What might prevent Black people from being themselves online?
- How can the internet be a safe space for Black people?

Questions to give advice

- What advice would you give someone when they are trying to decide whether it's okay to post something online?
- What should you do if you see content online that is hateful or targeting Black people?
- What is the difference between an upstander and a bystander? How can you be a good upstander online?
